NEWMAN BALL

As the Gater Sees It

Terse and to the point is this fifth article in our series on the European situation by the social science faculty. Dr. Leonard Ascher presents a point of view which, as he says, is not that of the general run of folk. In fact, the line of thinking is really rather unpopular. Of course this makes the thinking wrong, doesn't it?

Well, doesn't it?

AMERICAN SELF-DECEIT

By Leonard Ascher
Assistant Professor of Economics

American neutrality at the present time seems to consist of a lively desire to keep clear of the actual fighting in Europe while hoping that France and Britain will achieve a prompt and decisive victory over Germany. With such a victory Poland will be restored, Hitler will be driven from Germany, the constant threat of war will be removed, and democracy will be safe once more!

SELF-DECEIT

In adopting this attitude, we are committing the gravest of sins; we are deceiving ourselves. And in doing this we are betraying the best interests of our country.

Our real aim should be to work for a just peace—a peace which will work, a peace which will endure. Such a peace will not be achieved by restoring Poland with its evil features that hark back to Versailles. It will not be accomplished by overthrowing Hitler. Consider the case of Kaiser Bill! How we hated that "insane" despot in 1918. It will not be reached by giving to politicians who represent embittered Frenchmen and Englishmen a free hand in drafting the terms of "Peace." Nor will it be gained by going to war on the side of the Allies in order that we may sit beside the victors (?) at the peace parley and stay their hands when they would bear down too heavily upon the vanquished. Our experience at Versailles in 1919 has taught us what to expect in such a situation.

QUIET HOSTILITIES

Instead of siding with the Allies, we should work first for an early cessation of hostilities, and next for international economic relations which will enable Germany, as well as Britain, France, and the United States, to make a living. That means that our government must cooperate to remove the impediments to world trade.

Only if Germany prospers will she be able to return to democratic practices; if she is beaten down and bankrupted again, the only alternatives for her are some form of totalitarianism or complete chaos. A defeated and economically stifled Germany, furthermore, will be neither a good customer for American products, nor a safe neighbor for other European nations—or even for us.

Let us in the United States, therefore, stay neutral in spirit as well as in deed, and thus not only serve our own best interests, but those of the world as well.

Newman Club Ball Saturday Night Expected to Pack Students In St. Francis Colonial Room

Saturday night's annual Newman Ball is expected to pack the large Colonial ballroom of the St. Francis hotel with Santa Clara, University of San Francisco, San Francisco Junior College, California and students of other colleges of the bay area as well as several hundred Staters.

The fifth annual ball will introduce Les Smith's eleven piece orchestra to San Francisco collegian circles. The San Mateo baton twirler will present several new numbers in honor of the occasion. Smith will feature a male trio, both a girl and boy vocalist and his famed singing guitar.

Bids are on sale in College hall for one dollar and a half per couple, and the NO CORSAGE ruling will place the bids within the budget of the average State Student.

A feature of the dance will be the novelty favors specially designed by Mary Jane Brenenstul. They are finished in a gold cover with the Newman seal emblazoned in purple and bearing gold engraved pages.

The ball is semi-formal.

Final Week For Chicken's Ball

Clubs today were making last minute entries and pre-views as the deadline for Chicken's Ball acts ended. A great many clubs entered in the show have failed to have their acts previewed. Erwin Bischoff, general chairman, announced that all such organizations would be scratched unless previewed immediately.

"This is the final week," Bischoff said, "and the programs must be printed. Announcement of organizations participating and the names of the acts will be made next week."

Meanwhile the tremendous demand for tickets continued unbated. Clubs keen to win the ticket-selling trophy were swamping ticket-chairman Louise Vallarino with requests.

With sales well over the five hundred mark, Chairman Bischoff was concerned with the limited seating capacity. "Frederic Burk only holds 450," he said, "and unless the School Board grants us the use of another auditorium, it may be necessary to hold the Chicken's Ball on two successive nights."

Trophies will be awarded on the night of the affair, November 15, and photographs of the winning acts will be taken. The best act will be decided by audience applause.

Rehearsals are now under way for Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" to be presented by the College theater before Christmas vacation, according to Herb Smith, student director.

Members of the cast to date include: Bernice Bianchi, Janice Frinfrock, Stephanie Singer, Chas. Mauer, Ray Hutchison, George Archambeault, Hallock Wagner, Wallace Twichell and Walter Bartmann.

A few small male parts are yet to be filled, Smith said. Anyone interested should see Jessie D. Casebolt, faculty director, in Annex B-2.

NOTICE

All Lost and Found articles and Locker materials from last semester will be turned over to a worthy orgánization if not called for by November 15.

Scholarship Dance Held Friday Night

Final post-game dance of the semester will be staged in the Women's gym tomorrow night under the sponsorship of Sigma Alpha Eta, men's honorary fraternity.

Maestro Dick Lotter's orchestra will beat out the rhythm for dancing Staters and Jayseers, as well as any outsiders who care to attend.

Admission to the dance with State and J.C. student body cards will be twenty-five cents. Outsiders, minus student body cards, will be charged thirty-five cents.

Proceeds of the dance will go to the Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship. Each semester the fraternity makes an award of a scholarship to some one male upperclassman. The requirements for the scholarship include: a grade point average of 1.5 at the time of application, must be an upperclassman or high sophomore at the time of application, must have been a male resident of the college two semesters previous to application, and must have participated in extra-curricular activities in some degree, including clubs, athletic teams, class activities, etc.

The scholarship award is made upon the choice of the Board of Deans.

Alpha Omega to Offer Scholarship

Alpha Omega sorority plans to give a territorial scholarship annually to the most deserving woman student of San Francisco State College according to certain standard to be published later.

President Jean Van Arsdale says: "This will be something new as the only scholarship given to date has been for men and we feel that women are just as deserving and needful as men."

The ceremony of initiating new pledges took place October 29 at the home of Miss Van Arsdale. The following girls were pledged to Alpha Omega sorority: Marge Greer, Dot Foppiano, Bernice Nelson, Vi Nicholoff, Anita Magnison and Barbara Baghetti.

ADVISORY

Halloween was celebrated with great hilarity by the advisory council last Monday following their short business meeting in which plans for a possible contribution to Chicken's ball and a party to be held at Sigmund Stern grove Nov. 9, were discussed. Games were played and orange and black suckers were meted out to the members.

Gaters, Rams Concentrating On Offense for Tomorrow Night's Grid Contest at Seals Stadium

In order to bat .500 for the season, State's varsity gridders are determined to down the Rams from San Francisco Junior college when the two elevens collide tomorrow night at Seals stadium.

The two teams have met one enemy in common, the Bulldogs from San Mateo J.C. The Tide won by a touchdown from this outfit, while the Rams lost to them by the same margin. However, State met San Mateo in the Bulldogs opening game so comparative scores shouldn't be taken into account too much.

Touchdown Trouble

Coach Dick Boyle's big problem during the last few games has been trying to get his boys to score touchdowns. They have not crashed into paydirt once during the last four contests.

A big reason for the scoring inefficiency has been due to injuries. At least one or two key men have been missing from the backfield in every game. Coach Boyle believes he will have all his former cripples in uniform Friday night, for the first time this season—if the supply of tape holds out.

Shelley, Roberts Break Merced Campus Ground

Shoulder to shoulder and with firm grasps on the shiny shovel, Dr. Alexander Roberts and Senator Jack Shelley turned over the first soil of the new Ingleside-Lake Merced campus at the groundbreaking ceremonies Wednesday.

A crowd of 500 State students, including the band A Capella choir, were on hand for the dedication of the new site, and barring the disagreeable weather and the hour lull in the program, the affair was a success.

FUTURE SUPPORT PROMISED

"The establishment of this new college is one step in preserving American thought and action," said Senator Shelley, who was the main speaker of the day. Shelley also told of the battle in the last session of the legislature at Sacramento, when the appropriations for the new campus were passed in spite of the huge deficit faced by the State of California, and he promised the future support of the legislators.

Dr. A. C. Roberts, college president, expressed his unbounded gratitude to the various groups who worked together to secure the new site and predicted long years of hard work ahead before the project is completed.

Mrs. W. Woodward, president of the Parent-Faculty club pledged the support of that group until the goal is reached.

Mr. Green Heads Art Federation

Mr. Harold Green of the Art Department was chosen faculty advisor for the newly-formed Art Federation at a meeting of the group held last Monday.

Also elected at the meeting were the art class representatives, who will act as members of the Federation Board. Those chosen were: Leslie Klepper, Roy Dison, Pat Gillick, Violet Chase and Englebright.

Much progress has been reported by the Constitution Council, and an active program is planned for the group, according to Virginia Green of the Council.

A poster committee has been appointed to take care of securing student body approval of posters for the college bulletin boards.

'Murray Hill' Plays Tonight

"Murray Hill' comes to the campus.

After two successful performances on Treasure Island, the College theater players will again present Leslie Howard's three-act comedy, "Murray Hill or Miss Tweedles Gets Married," at 8 o'clock tonight in Annex B-2.

Students will be admitted upon presentation of student body cards. Admission for outsiders will be 25 cents.

SORRY!

Editor of the Golden Gater:

In a recent issue (Tuesday, October 24) there was an article about the murals in Anderson hall.

The ones in the lobby were discussed and credited to Mr. Kadish.

Mr. Kadish did the mural in the new wing of Anderson hall, but has nothing to do with the ones discussed in the article.

They are the product of John E. Gerrity.

I believe a correction is in order.

Respectfully,
S. N. Morse.

Note: Your reporter contrary to her editor's orders is writing in the first instead of the third person this week. (Sorry, Ed but just had to make this phone call.)

"Hello, Peg. What are you doing?"

"Well, go ahead and eat your apple, but listen here's some news for your keen 'Chasin' Around' column."

You can use it? Good!"

"I suppose you heard about the grand party the big shots of the Publications board held for the reporters of the Gater and Franciscan staffs."

"It was last Friday night, October 20 at the Parkside Tennis club. They lured the kids over with the word 'refreshments' on the invitations."

"Tommy Thorpe was tickling the ivories while Lew Morris, Ernest Bicknell, Fred Bender, Bob Buckley, and Carol Crouch sang all the State songs. I thought surely the ceiling would fall down.

"Noel Michelson, Margaret Sullivan, Ernie Miguel, Jim Martin, Saul Simon, the Pooles, and Cornelius Beggs were happily munching sandwiches. Pearl World and Leslie Kleper gave a good interpretation of the polka."

"Of course the same Friday night the music department presented the romantic musical "Showboat." I was furious because I couldn't attend both affairs. However, B. Zehnder told me Eleanor Plas, Lois Noreiga, Anita Manginson and Doug Kidd were delighted with the performance."

"Did you hear about the team's bad luck on their trip to Eureka? Chad Reade seems to have forgotten that Pullman windows always stick. Anyhow, he stuck his fist through the glass and couldn't play in the game."

"Dave Rohrer spent the night in the hospital with a head injury. Rock Lowry hurt his arm. I think your idea of calling him Cutie-pie just fits. Bob Cumming received a cut over his eye. Yes, and that isn't all to top it off, we lost the game."

"The funniest thing happened. George Thayer missed the homeward train. Lucky for him that Guido De Ghetaldi's pop was staying at the same hotel as the fellows. He drove George down to where he could catch the train at Ukiah."

"Speaking of Guido, reminds me. Did you ever hear why Shirley Brown pushed him in the water last week at the Pi Epsilon Mu picnic? I was just curious."

"Hey, those Sigma Pi Sigma men really know how to do things. They had an orchestra at the last noon-day dance and the gym was packed. Some of the dancers were Elaine George and Pat Sullivan, Dudley Schwart, Edwin Smith and Betty Mae Fisher, Bill "Badminton club" Nanry, Lucille Murphy, June Edwards, Goldie Atwood, and Bette Pierce. What's this about Bette and Bob Sweeney, do you know?"

"Football Coach Dick Boyle, and the new P.E. teacher Miss Marjorie MacClaren and Tillie Rastad were judging the prize dance."

"Herbie Sawanigan nearly broke his neck getting to Janet Brown to ask her to enter the contest. I was surprised to see George Weekes and Marge Furtado among the contestants."

"Who won? Bill White and Pat Lundberg."

"Well kiddee, I have to do some studying now. But there's one more thing. Wont' it be swell to see such a long stag line at the Cal-Poly dance next Saturday night?"

"Phooey on State men! They might as well stay home this weekend. However, guess we'll have to let the team go down."

"I'll see you on the Cal-Poly special. O. K.?"

"Hello Peg. Whew, well at last the Cal Poly trip is over."

"Oh, you agree. It sure was a lot of fun wasn't it? Weren't you surprised when everyone showed up on time at the station?"

"What? One of the football players missed the train? That's tough, who was it?"

"Pete Perry, uh? Gee, I didn't hear anything about it. Poor kid!"

"Did you see Miss Davitt and Mr. Nee watching the kids scramble for seats. I bet they had as much fun as we did. I don't suppose they saw Bill Buchanan take that grand picture of them at the Third and Townsend station."

"You know, both of the Bob Sweeney's were there. As usual Sigma Pi Sigma's Bob had a bunch of jokes for anyone who would listen to him. Bobbie Anderson was close at hand and feeling like laughig at everyone."

"Wally Young, Archie Steinbach, Betty Fisher, and Betty Pierce were all there, too. Did you see the big cigar Spooks Thieler was smoking? Gee, you could smell it for blocks."

"Oh, and Peg wasn't it cute of those Cal Poly fellows to have the cold cream and kleenex for the girls? It was really appreciated."

"Barbara Sullivan and Hal Meller said that in their coach Jack Fisher was playing the accordion while Jean Gilen did some fine singing. Helen Newall and Dorothy Fitzpatrick also entertained the crowd with popular songs."

"That terrible Bill Nanry! Coming home he turned out to be the train pest. Wonder why he bothered keeping everyone awake? Don Kupfer was checking up on the team members, he wanted them to be resting by 2 a.m."

"Let's not talk anymore about the Cal Poly trip. Everyone knows that Jimmie Fitzgerald and his committee did a swell job on it."

"Gee, you should have been at the crazy spook party given by the W.A.A. Monday night. Jeanie Van Arsdale, Bobbie Sandeen, Lucille Murphy certainly disguised the gym."

"How were they dressed?"

"Jeanie looked like Fatima, while Bobbie and Lu were cowgals, Joe was a baseball umpire. Some of the other girls were Fran Twohig and Virginia Werum, both wearing flannel nightgowns and carrying candles; Lucille Henry was wearing a wig of string and a funny gym suit; Inez Brickson looked very cute as a little peasant girl; Jean Madison was also a cowgirl.

"After dancing the Virginia reel, eafing doughnuts and cider, the girls listened to a ghost story and then went fearfully homeward."

"Was talking to Tille Rastad today. She wants us to take part in the automobile caravan before the S.F.J.C. game Friday night."

"Yes. She said Louis Quartaro's car will be leading. They'll gather in front of College hall at 6:30 p.m. The caravan will proceed down Market street to the Ferry building, then swing back up to Seal's stadium. Let's try and get a lot of kids to go."

"Before I hang up, tell me, what is the college boys' latest craze?"

"Can't you guess? Wee Bonnie Baker singing that old time tune 'Oh, Johnnie.' The fellows surely do go for that. Yes, incidentally so do the girls."

"See you at the J.C. game."

"Goodbye."

GOLDEN TIDE SET TO BATTLE J. C. RAMS

Intramural Actions

By JOHN PICHOTTO

The third time is a charm, they say, and it was a charm for Sigma Pi Sigma's intramural football squad as they met a stubborn band of Bears for the third time last Monday and when the clock stopped, the score read 21-0 in favor of the Sigmen.

Previously beaten and tied by the Bears, Sigma Pi Sigma unleashed its powerful attack in a cool, deliberate manner which proved the downfall of their courageous opponents.

TWO FIELD GOALS

Strategy prevailed in the first half as George Weekes, Sigma end, twice waited for Don McRitchie to boot the ball and then booted two perfect field goals to chalk up six points. Not content with six points, Weekes crashed into a Bear man a few plays later, to block an attempted punt and add two more points to the score.

In the second half John Finn set off the spark by intercepting John Grantham's pass and returning it to the Bear 30 yard line. On the next play, McRitchie bulleted a long pass to Jack McGann who made a miraculous catch in the end-zone to tally six more points. Seven more points were added in the closing moments of the game as Jack Fischer dashed in out of nowhere to intercept a Bear pass on the 10 yard line and rambled over for the score.

WIN DIVISION

The win for the fraternity lads gave them the title in Division C and completes the round of winners in each Division. Division A was captured by Captain Al Barros' Muscle-Men; Division B by Ryall's Stars; Division C by Sigma Pi Sigma, and Division D by Captain Tom Collingwood's Old Men's A.C.

RYALL'S STARS BEATEN

Not content with winning Division A, the Muscle-Men went on to beat the winners of Division B, Ryall's Stars, last Tuesday by the slim score of 8-0.

The Muscle-Men scored first when Kenny Kim crashed in to block a Ryall's Stars punt, the ball being caught by Ed Hegarty in the end-zone for the tally. A few plays later, Hegarty swarmed over a Star man in his own end-zone for an automatic two points.

STRONG DEFENSE

Bud Ryall and Herb Swanigan threw passes all over the lot but they were ineffective as the backfield of Muscle-Men Augie Venturi, Jack Oakes, Al Barros, and Lee Alderman knocked them down. Venturi, Kim, and Barros altenated in carrying and passing the ball and gained considerable yardage.

Playing vicious ball in the Muscle-Men line were Frank Lumpe, Al Eisen, Marsh Hansen, Dave Stone, Dick Webster, while Eddie Bagnes, Tom Keoshane, John Tash, Aldo Avidane, and Harold Boyd fought well for the losers.

MUSCLE-MEN IN FINALS

The win for the Muscle-Men, ably coached by Homer Irwin, puts them in position to play the winner of the Sigma Pi Sigma-Old Men's A.C. battle which will be played today at 12:20 on the Upper Field.

This game should be a battle royal and both teams will be out to win—but definitely.

Jayvees Battle SFJC Lambs In Preliminary Tilt

Baby Gators Ready to Bounce Back After Last Week's Setback by Bears

Bouncing back from their first defeat last week, Tom Bragg's junior varsity gridders tangle with San Francisco Junior College Lambs in preliminary to the main event tomorrow night at Seals stadium.

Their 18-0 defeat from Mission high Bears was a bitter pill. And now they are out to fleece the Lambs and finish the season with a win. Several years back the Lambs trampled over the Braggmen 25-0.

Coach Bragg has given the boys thirty plays this season, and several new offensive plays were practiced this week in scrimmage. Spread formations are all the vogue, and the team is well equipped in this fashion of play.

Dick Webster, last year's leading scorer, has yet to make a touchdown. The game Friday night will be his last chance to break into the scoring columns.

The junior varsity goal-line was crossed in only one game this season, that theree times in the Mission tilt.

Boyle Readies Basketball

With the football season drawing to a close, Coach Dick Boyle is starting to think about his 145 basketball team.

As present plans call for the first game to be played about the middle of December, he is anxious to get the team practicing. A meeting has been called a week from Monday in Room 118 at noon. Fellows who wish to try out for this team should be present at this meeting.

NOTICE

All members and prospective members of the Varsity Basketball squad must report to the Women's Gymnasium, Friday, November 3 at 3 o'clock. This includes the 145's and the Junior Varsity. Suits will be issued and Coach Farmer will outline details of the coming casaba season.

Soccer Boys Meet Balboa Tomorrow at Roberts Field

State Figure to Take Game in Stride as Warmup to SFJC Tilt

State's soccer team will engage a fast Balboa High outfit tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock as a warmup match before they meet S.F.J.C., on Monday. The Tide, undefeated to date should take the former game in a walk.

BEAT JAYSEE

'Our motto now is 'Beat J.C.' " Such was the statement issued today by John Finn, who is captain and part time coach of the State soccer squad. "This is going to be a plenty tough game and the fellows are going to ive that real old college try.

"The traditional rivalry between State and J.C. will no doubt spur both teams on to great heights, and I look for a very close game Monday. The game is scheduled to start at 4:00 at Roberts field."

IMPROVEMENT NEEDED

"However," he continued, "for victory over the larger colleges we must improve about 100 per cent. Our games with the California and Stanford frosh teams are yet to have a tentative date set for our clashes with them."

Below is a partial list of games certain to be played.

Tarloff In 'Bad' Win

Hammering out and 11-9, 5-3 decision over Bobbe Sandeen, Norma Taloff entered the finals of the women's singles in the Badminton tourney last Monday. Battling point for point, the lead alternating often, Sandeen dropped the final deciding five points to bow to the challenger after a gruelling contest.

Taloff's probable opponent appeared in the opposite bracket, when Jo Biggi, defeated Hypathia Scordellis. Biggi, blasting all opposition by license plate scores appears the most potent threat to the aspiring title-grabbers.

The tournament continues daily in the women's gym during the noon hour.

Referees Challenge All-Intramural Team

Intramural football stars who displayed a fine brand of ball and sportsmanship will be united into an all-intramural football team to be selected by Dan Farmer, Don Kupfer and John Pichotto.

It will be challenged to a game at the completion of the tournament by Phi Epsilon Mu, block "S" fraternity which will present each member of the team with a ribbon.

Gaters Intend To End Scoring Famine Friday

State Plan to Shoot Works With New Trick Plays Against Rams

Dave Schiller at right half, Bill Stein at full, and Bud Chandler at quarterback, the opening backfield looks capable of ending the touchdown famine. "Old man injury" is being feared as much as the Jaycee squad as a stopper of this combination.

Chad Reade

In the line, the Gaters are set and ready to go. Starting at the ends will be Bob Lee and Hal Meller, at the tackles are Claude Hanrahan and Marv Fairbanks, at guards Guido deGhetaldi and Guy Swannack, and Wes Dahl at center.

Judging from last week's performances, Dave Roher, Jim King, Bob Cumming, and George Lorbeer should also see early action.

Eisan Team Ready

SFJC also looks ready to go tomorrow night. Coach Lee Eisan has not had State's injury troubles, but he has also been stymied by inability of his boys to get over the final marker. For instance, last week his team gained more than three hundred yards and still didn't score.

Bad breaks may have been the reason for the Rams failure to score as their backfield of Alex Spieller, Herb Taylor, Johnny Gray, and Al Nauman are a difficult quartet to hold in check. Nauman needs extra special watching by the Staters as he is liable to break up the ball game at any time.

New Plays Planned

Coach Boyle isn't worrying about his defense, so there has been no heavy scrimmage sessions this week. Instead several new plays have been worked out. These new tricks are expected to surprise the Rams for long gains and maybe a couple of touchdowns.

The plans of the two teams during the last week show that both intend to shoot the works, so look for a high scoring game. And also look for State to untrack itself tomorrow evening and come through on the right side of a big score. (Yes, you can quote us on this statement as we got it straight from a couple of fellows on the team. And you can blame them if they don't keep their word, see!)

Tomorrow night's co-captains are Hal Meller and Chad Reade.
